Residential

Glass splashbacks are a revolutionary new concept designed to ensure a clean and modern design and finish that requires minimal work to maintain.

Glass splashbacks are used in many residential and commercial applications as a feature product and are an excellent alternative to tiles, as they do not have the unsightly appearance of grout lines. Thus, they are extremely easy to clean.

With glass splashbacks you have the freedom to choose your own colours, as they are custom made and painted to suit your décor. The consistency of glass splashbacks gives you a smooth surface, and the natural reflective element will give any room a larger feel

All of our splashbacks are made out of toughened glass to ensure strength and durability and as a result they are up to seven times stronger than normal glass.

The use of coloured painted glass walls in the bathroom, particularly in the shower recess, has become a very popular way of finishing off a modern bathroom renovation. Not only does the glass wall visually compliment a frameless or semi-frameless shower screen, the smooth reflective element of glass will give a small room like this a bigger feel.

There is almost unlimited range of colours to choose from, and with toughened glass you would be choosing one of the strongest, safest products on the market.

We service London, Essex and the South East regions. We offer a supply only service or a supply and fit service, which is fitted by our professional installers.

Commercial

Glass Expressions Ltd have undertaken a number of commercial projects including the supply of back painted glass for Heathrow Airport Terminals 1 and 3, the ticket booths at St. Pancras Station, and a number of shops and escalators in shopping malls.

All our glass is back painted using our in house paint mixing scheme, using a two-part resin, which we consider to be the best coating for glass in today's market place with the best possible adhesion.
